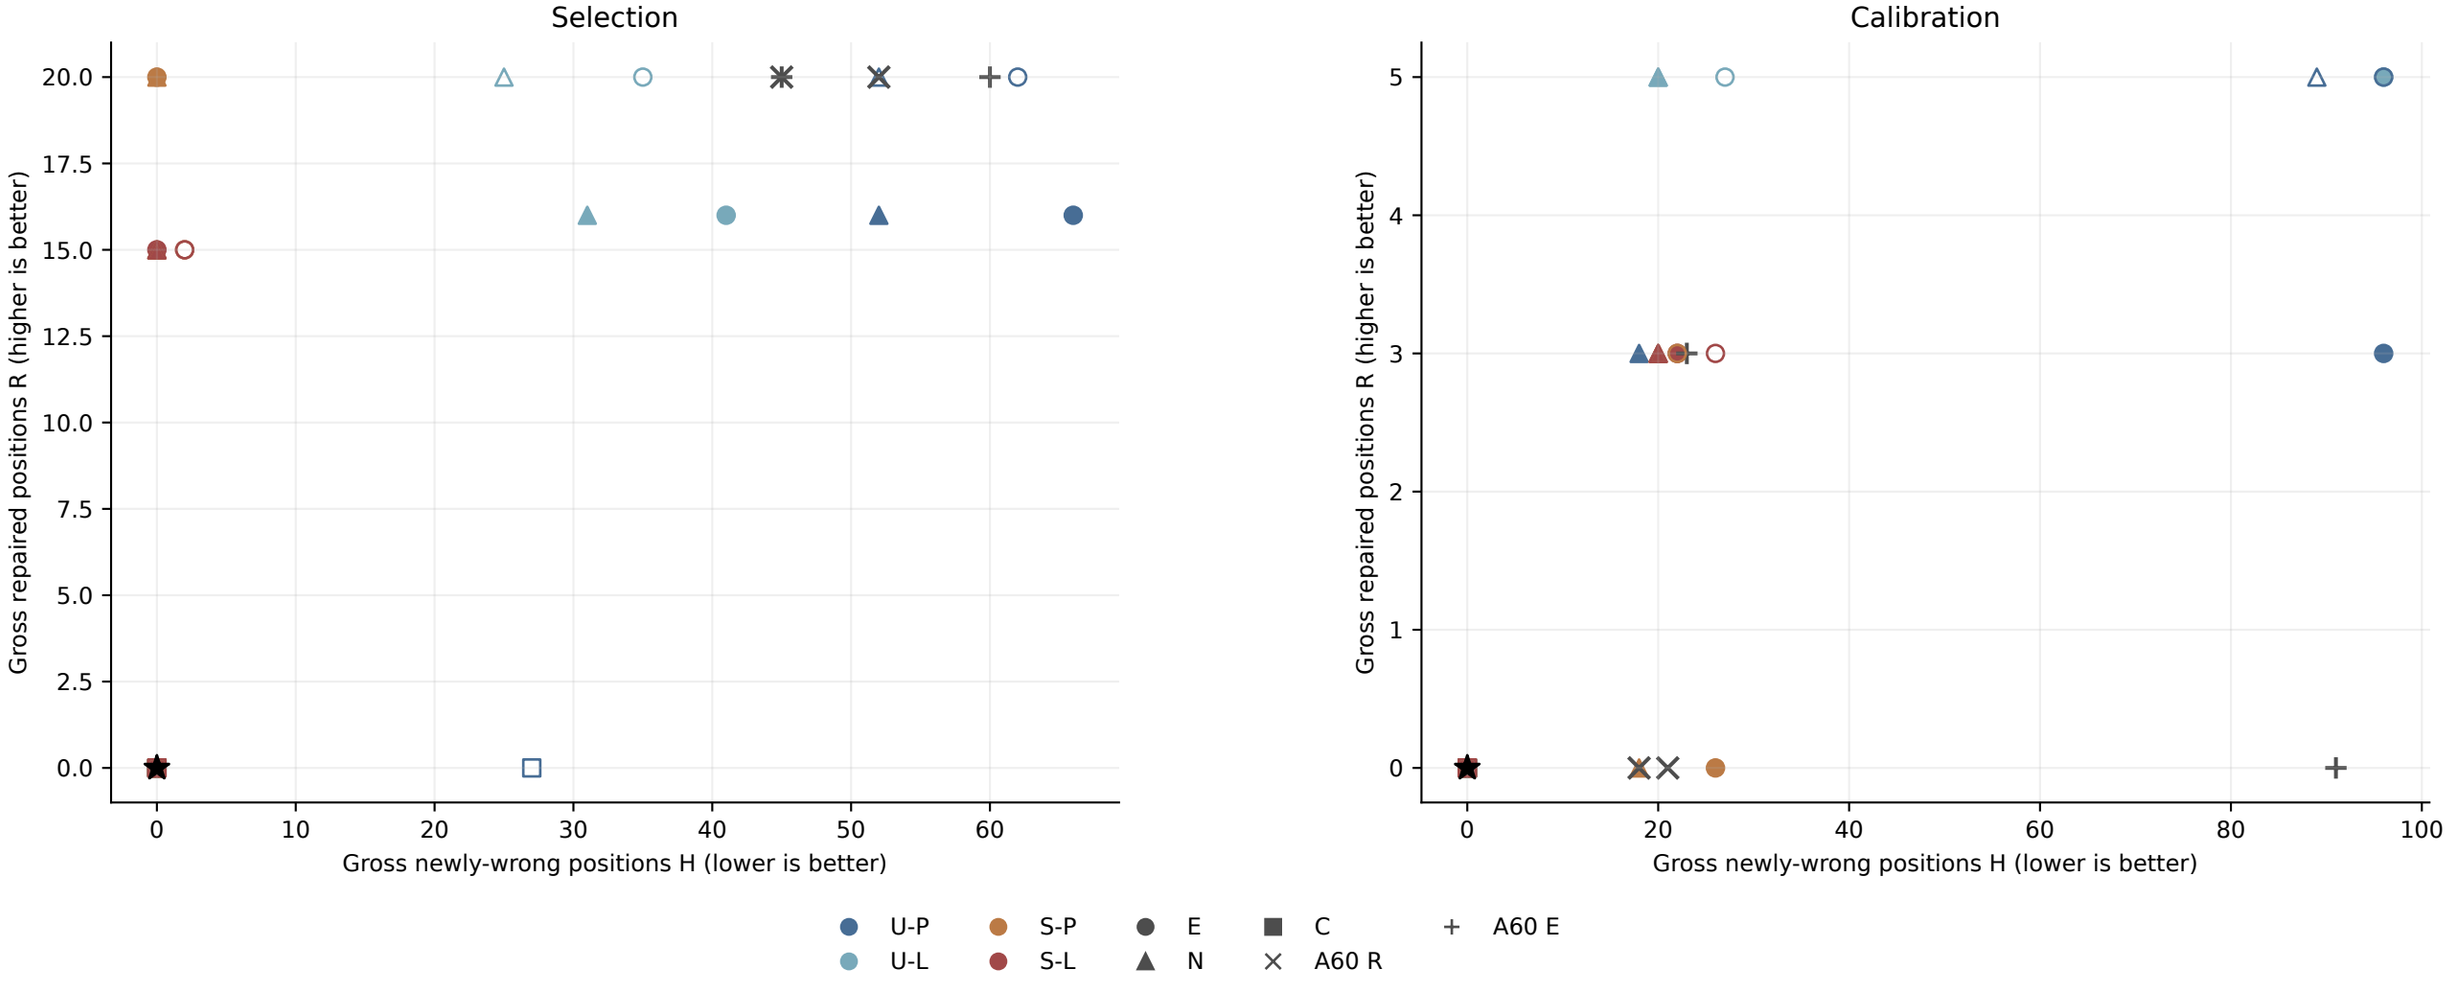
Stable-majority recognition can still gain or lose reference frames



G mechanically keeps every native majority class equal to A08; H and R expose changes hidden by that equality or their net difference.

Black star=A08; filled/hollow=replicate1/2. Overlapping C/no-op points can coincide.

Propagated clip-family references are not expert frame visibility. Native predictions are reused across all five task tables.